Headteacher's Update

I can't believe how quickly this first full week has gone - time is flying by! I've noticed already that it's a little bit darker in the morning when my alarm goes off and the same is true at the other end of the day with the nights starting to draw in.

My assemblies this week have focused on how people become successful and the importance of maintaining vision and living up to your values on your journey.

Every individual student at Newstead is on their own pathway which is unique to them. I shared in assembly the range of university courses and destinations of our outgoing Year 13 students, along with the range of other routes students took, such as gap years, employment, training courses and degree apprenticeships.

Whilst we hope everyone's journey will be 'straight and flat', we all know that this is rarely the case. There are going to be bends and meanders, the odd dead end and a bit of back-tracking, along with humps, bumps, mountains and valleys. If young people establish their vision, their picture of their future, it will help them to maintain focus and direction.

Given the trials and tribulations that may come their way, when young people have a clear vision of what they want to happen, they can make better decisions.

We all know that challenges are inevitable. When they run into a wall or a hurdle, they need to know which way to go. Vision provides them with something to look forward to and always work towards. It provides them with a reason to keep going, even when the times get tough.

Having a vision places a purpose upon their goal-setting activities. Without an end goal or destination in mind, then young people won't have a clear or defined path. Vision provides this. Do ask your daughters/sons this weekend about their vision of themselves for the future, and maybe share the vision you had when you were their age.

To achieve their vision or goal, they can start by setting small, attainable goals as stepping stones. Each relatively little bit of success will help to continue propelling them forward on their bigger journey. At the start of a new school year, it's important that students get into good habits and that they 'sweat the small stuff' as it will make a big difference longer term.

Young people's values will also help them along their journey. These are the things that they believe are important in the way they live and work.

Deep down, our values are probably the measures we all use to tell if our life is turning out the way we want it to. Even on a bad day at work or school, if we can say we've lived up to our values, then that's a good thing. If we've been kind, or a good friend, or done something for the community, then we can feel proud and happy in ourselves. And then, completing the circle, we know that happier people are more likely to be successful.

Last term we undertook the task of reviewing and updating our school values. We undertake this exercise every 4-5 years and we spoke with students, parents, staff and governors as part of this development. Thank you to everyone who provided feedback, either in person or via the online questionnaires. We have taken all feedback on board and I am pleased to be able to share our updated Values Statement which, we all feel, defines our principles at Newstead Wood School:

We value, share and celebrate:

- a passion and enjoyment for learning underpinned by intellectual challenge and academic curiosity
- strength in diversity, open-mindedness, and respect
- spiritual, moral and cultural dimensions of our global community
- leadership and character development for all
- working in partnership with parents and carers, and the local, national and international community
- all achievements - at school and beyond
- creativity, innovation and ambition in our ability to actively improve ourselves and our future
- a safe and kind environment to build confidence, resilience, belonging and wellbeing
- each individual for who they are and who they can become

These values will help to guide us over the next five years as we continue to Grow in Strength and achieve even more successes together.

Wishing you a good weekend,

Alan Blount

Around Newstead

Photographers in School

We have a photographer coming in on Monday to take photos for the website and prospectuses. We'd be grateful if you could take extra care that students are looking tidy in full school uniform. Students in Y7-11 will only be included in photos if they are happy to be and if we have parental permission already recorded on our system. Sixth formers are able to give their own consent for photos – if you do not want your sixth form child to be photographed, please make sure they are aware of this so that they do not volunteer to be photographed.

Individual photos of students will be taken by the school photographer on Tuesday. Students in all year groups should wear school uniform, even if they have PE that day. Students with PE on Tuesday should bring in their PE kits and they can change for their PE lesson.

Royal Parks Half Marathon

Mrs Brazier, Head of Year 7, is running the Royal Parks Half Marathon in October to raise money for Cancer Research. It is a charity very close to her heart and one she has done lots of fundraising for in the past. This year, she would like to smash her previous successes and raise as much as possible for this worthy cause. Cancer affects 1 in 2 of us and causes so much heartache - all donations however small make a difference and are greatly appreciated. Mrs Brazier would be deeply grateful for any support you can offer. You can sponsor her here.

'Oliver!' Do you want More?

We are very excited to announce that the school will be staging the musical 'Oliver!' in January 2023. The dates of the performance are 24-26 January 2024.

Any student from Year 7 to 13 can be a part of this whole school extracurricular event.

If your child would like to have a performing part in this production, either as a main character or as part of the chorus, they need to come to a meeting next Monday 18 September at 1.30pm in MB1. In this meeting we will let students know what they need to do for their auditions and give details of the time commitments involved.

Auditions will take place next week on Wednesday 20 and Thursday 21 September 3.45-5.00pm in MB1. Students only need to choose and attend one audition date. Students can leave once they have done their audition. Rehearsals will mostly take place on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays after school until 5.00pm; time commitment on these days will depend on the size of the role.

If you have any questions please email the director, our Head of Drama Mr Stokes, at mstokes@newsteadwood.co.uk.

Register in MB1, 1.30-2pm Monday 18th September for more information

The African Caribbean Education Network (ACEN) is a national network of Black parents, students, teachers, and professionals seeking to improve experiences and access to top educational institutions and workplaces for Black students. In the past, our focus has solely been on independent & grammar schools, however, with racial equity via systems change at the heart of what we do, we are expanding our focus to include all top academic institutions, as these are the spaces where Black students are typically underrepresented. In acknowledgment, this then impacts on underrepresentation in top universities, and the workplace thereafter.

Registration is now open for the ACEN annual anti-racism conference, the only school-focused anti-racism event designed and delivered by teaching staff, academics & students

Date Friday 6th October 2023

Location: City of London School, 107 Queen Victoria St, London EC4V 3AL

Times: 9am - 4pm - Teaching Staff & Heads

4pm - 8pm - Students (Y10-13)

Evening component for students

With students being the focus of the conference, we will also be running an evening component for them. The aim is for them to be inspired, share, network and interact with corporate partners offering work experience, graduate schemes, and other initiatives specifically for African Caribbean heritage students, in acknowledgment that these students are underrepresented in these spaces. Our speakers and workshop facilitators include:

- George The Poet | Spoken Word Poet, Author, Podcast Host
- Sagan Daniels | Youth Inclusion & Community Programme Director, Co-founder of the Ruby Blacklist
- Abmimbola Johnson | Human Rights Barrister and Chair of the Police Independent Scrutiny & Oversight Board

The PA are excited to announce that we have teamed up with Stikins to offer parents the opportunity to purchase quality labels for your children's school uniform, whilst earning the school commission at the same time! This money can then be used to continue to help purchase some of the fantastic resources that benefit our children's learning.

As we all know, lost property is a problem in all schools and I am sure we are all familiar with our child, at some point, coming home from school with a missing item. As parents, we are aware that time is precious, which is why we think these labels are such a great idea; they simply stick onto the wash-care label of clothing. They can even be used in shoes! Naming of clothing is a school requirement and we are hoping that with this opportunity we can start to eliminate some of parents' frustrations that surround these issues.

How it works:

Each order placed quoting the school reference number 14318 will provide the school with 30% commission. If you use the link on our school website's Uniform Page to order your labels online, the number is filled in automatically for you!

What Parents & Carers Need to Know about LIVE STREAMING

Live streaming involves broadcasting and watching videos online in real time, often on social media or via platforms like YouTube and Twitch. Viewers can interact through comments, chats and reactions during the broadcast: such instant engagement makes this an exciting way to share experiences, learn from others and build digital communities. Despite the many positives, live streaming also creates a potential platform for unsuitable content and poses some risks to children: it's essential to keep privacy and safety in mind and comply with each site or app's age restrictions.

AGE RESTRICTION

16+ 18+

Age varies by platform

WHAT ARE THE RISKS?

LACK OF AGE VERIFICATION

Despite their age restrictions, some platforms don't require proof of age at sign up – meaning that anyone can register for an account (and potentially pretend to be older or younger than they actually are). In many cases, this means that young live streamers can never be totally certain exactly who they are broadcasting to and who is engaging with their live stream.

DISCLOSING PERSONAL INFO

A characteristic of live streaming is the ability for videos to be instantly shared worldwide. Without the correct privacy settings enabled, a child could inadvertently reveal personal information or their location, making them vulnerable to online predators or identity theft. It's wise to regularly check the privacy settings (and what data is being shared) on any apps your child has signed up for.

ANYTHING COULD HAPPEN

As the video streams are live, children might encounter (or inadvertently share) inappropriate content. Most live-streaming apps have rules to prevent this and monitor their services, also providing report buttons where content can be flagged for review. It may not be dealt with instantly, however, meaning that your child could be further exposed to harmful content during a live stream.

UNAUTHORISED RECORDINGS

Each live streaming platform stores completed videos for different periods (Twitch saves broadcasts for 60 days, for example, while Facebook and YouTube remove them only at the creator's request). Deleting a video, though, doesn't always stop it from being shared: in some cases, streams have been illegally recorded (or screenshots taken) by certain viewers and redistributed on other sites.

ROGUE CONTENT CREATORS

Children can also watch other people's live streams, which could potentially contain anything at any time (such as nudity, drug use or profanity). Most apps claim to monitor live streams and will stop any that don't adhere to their guidelines – but with millions of streams per day, it's complicated to regulate them all, so children could be exposed to inappropriate content without parents knowing.

DANGER OF GROOMING

There are increasing reports of children being coerced into performing "suggestive acts" by strangers on some live-streaming apps. Due to the lack of verification required for certain apps, almost anyone can sign up to these services (including anonymously or under a fake identity). It's vital, therefore, to ensure the correct safety measures are in place before your child begins live streaming.

Advice for Parents & Carers

PUT PRIVACY FIRST

Through the streaming app's settings, switch your child's account to 'private', so only their friends and followers can see their broadcasts. You could also turn off the live chat, shielding your child from any upsetting comments – although viewers' feedback is often seen as an integral part of the fun. Identify any nearby items (such as school uniforms or visible landmarks) that could give away your child's location.

MANAGE MULTISTREAMING

Some apps and sites let users stream their content through multiple social media platforms at once. A broadcast on SteamYard, for example, can be shared on YouTube, Twitch, X and Facebook if the accounts are linked. The privacy settings can differ on each of these, so we'd suggest only streaming via one platform at a time to maintain greater control over who's watching your child's videos.

GET INVOLVED YOURSELF

Research suggests a significant number of streams show a child on their own, often in a supposed safe space like their bedroom. If your child wants to live stream, ask if you could be present because you're interested in how it works. You could even set up your own account to gain a more detailed knowledge of what your child talks about in their live streams – and who they're broadcasting to.

TALK ABOUT LIVE STREAMING

Try to start with positives before discussing potential risks. You could ask which live streaming apps your child likes and how they use them. Do they just watch streams or create their own? Explain why it's unwise to reveal personal information while streaming (even to friends). If you feel your child's too young for live streams, explain your reasoning to them and perhaps agree to review this decision in the future.

CONSIDER THEIR ONLINE REPUTATION

As the broadcasts are live, it often causes the misconception among young people that whatever happens in their video simply 'vanishes' once the stream ends. However, videos can stay online indefinitely or be recorded by other users. It's important that your child understands what they do and say in a live stream could potentially damage their online reputation and, quite possibly, be seen by prospective future employers, colleges or universities.
